Promote Allyship Across Your Organization

The #ALLIES Journey provides an actionable framework that equips every individual in your organization to be an ally, to build allies, and to promote a culture of allyship through practical tools and insights. By giving everyone a voice and showing people how to share their power to empower the “onlys” in your teams you can unlock your organization’s productivity and make your teams more effective.

The #ALLIES Journey is now available to individuals and organizations to experience the learning experience as an interactive cohort on the Rali Change Experience Platform (CxP).

As part of the Journey, you will discover how to create a different culture, interact deeply with Gavriella’s story, uncover unhealthy microaggressions, make a difference through mentorship and empowerment, give others permission to act, and gain a new vision of being an ally.

This type of scenario happens all the time. Very insightful when it is played out like this video. If only we had stop motion in our meetings to catch ourselves and others. That is what Allyship is. To always be aware of the dynamics and being that voice to someone who was interrupted, ideas stolen or just because they are an 'only'.
